The Mayor was addressing a delegation of lution, who are on an automobile tour Philadelphia to Cambridge, taking the same route which Washington went over in 1775. They stopped off at City Hall to see the Mayor and were introduced by Louis A. Ames, President of the Empire State section of the organization.

In his address the Mayor dwelt on what one facetious person termed the struggle between the Tammany Tories and the Fusion patriots. Said the Sometimes it is a struggle that is not apparent to all the people of the not apparent to all the people of the city, because clear issues of right and wrong are not presented or involved, but it is nevertheless a constant struggle and a struggle against all kinds of difficulties and handicaps. The mere effort to set up a business-like and afficient government in the city against the natural inertia of established custom and practice is a difficult struggle, one very hard to carry out successfully, but still absolutely necessary for the comfort of the people of the city and the securing to them that maximum of service on the part of government which they have a right to expect from the type of popular government which we have here in this security."

Cut-Price Purchase of Mill-Ends ABOUT 1,000 ODDS AND ENDS-6,000 YARDS

This is an exclusive purchase and sale of some 1,000 accumulated ends from one of America's most prominent mills; a mill which supplies only the most exclusive tailors who get $35 to $75 for suits made with their label in similar materials we offer in this sale at $12.75.

The astoundingly low cash price which we paid for these Mill-Ends enables us to make you the finest quality pure wool suit you ever had on your back for $12.75. These woolens are the finest we have seen, and could easily bring $25 to $40, but the usual custom of the Ritchie & Cornell Stores of sharing the good things with our customers makes this offering this week a very choice tidbit in custom-made clothes at the astonishing price of $12.75.

Stop at the nearest store and ask for a sample of these Mill-Ends. Step lively, too, as there are only about 6,000 yards in the purchase.

Special Notice

All suits ordered up to closing time Wednesday night will be ready for
